3 Reasons Serving Christ is Hard:

1. Because Suffering is Strategic. (24)
2. Because Our Aim is Maturity. (25, 28, 2)
3. Because Human Logic is not Wise, but it is Plausible. (4)

Questions for Discussion/Reflection:

1. Read Colossians 1:24-2:5. What stands out to you?
2. Did God draw your attention to any particular part of the sermon? If so, why do you think He did so?
3. Have you ever seen suffering create gospel growth? What scares you most about suffering? How do you think others who have had this same fear but have suffered for Christ found the ability to get past their fear?
4. Why is making the aim of our lives, “presenting everyone mature in Christ”, hard?
5. To what human logic (set of ideas) do you find applying Christ-centered thinking hardest? Put another way, what human arguments seem so plausible that it is hard to see how they are false?
6. If serving Christ is hard, what can motivate us to still do it?
